Membership. What's in it for me?

Chartered Management Institute is a Nationally and Internationally recognised professional organisation which can give you every opportunity to achieve your ultimate career goals.

Membership makes you more marketable

Membership of the CMI says more about your professional standing and ability than qualifications alone – and gives you the recognition that comes with letters after your name. It helps you perform better. It raises your profile. That's a potent combination adding up to bigger pay cheques and better prospects.

Membership helps you outperform

It provides a structured framework. Your membership package gives you access to a library full of all the resources, information and guidance you need to be the best you can be.

Membership makes you better connected

Some of it's what you know. Some of it's who you know. The CMI gives you plenty of networking opportunities, face-to-face at our frequent local and national events, in online forums and through our professional networks.
